One of the most critical aspects in any workers' compensation claim is proper management, and the best way to ensure proper control and management of a claim is by maintaining control of the claimant's medical treatment.

This presentation will discuss securing control of medical treatment by properly posting and maintaining a panel of physicians onsite. The ins and outs of maintaining an adequate Panel of Physicians, properly training your employees on the panel and avoiding common pitfalls that lead to a loss of control of medical treatment will be explained at length. Additionally, practical tips to ensure additional security in relation to the Panel will be provided.
